Ohio House Passes SAFE Act, Save Women's Sports Act, and Parents' Bill of Rights

COLUMBUS—The Ohio House of Representatives just passed two critical bills on three major CCV-backed priorities: the SAFE Act with the Save Women's Sports Act amended into it (HB68) was passed with a 64-28 vote, and the Parents' Bill of Rights (HB8) was passed with a 65-29 vote.

If passed into law, these crucial bills would:

- Ban dangerous puberty-blocking drugs, wrong-sex hormones, and transgender surgeries on children.
- Protect children from being taken from parents' custody when parents decline harmful transgender medical procedures on their children.
- Preserve the integrity of women's sports by protecting female athletes from having to compete against biological males in high school and college.
- Recognize the fundamental right of parents to make decisions regarding their children's upbringing, care, and education.
- Require public schools to provide advance notification to parents about the teaching of sexual content to students.
- Protect students from being encouraged by school counselors to "socially transition" to the opposite sex without their parents' knowledge and require schools to notify parents if a student requests a change of gender recognition at school.

The bills now head to the Ohio Senate.
